NKECHI BOWDEN,

Plaintiff,

v.

WASHOE POLICE,

Defendant.

Case No. 3:23-cv-00022-MMD-CSD

ORDER

I. SUMMARY

Plaintiff Nkechi Bowden brings this civil-rights action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 to redress constitutional violations that he claims he suffered while incarcerated at Washoe County Detention Center. (ECF No. 1-1.) On January 26, 2023, this Court ordered Bowden to file an amended complaint within 30 days. (ECF No. 3.) The Court warned Bowden that the action could be dismissed if he failed to file an amended complaint by that deadline. (Id. at 5-6.) That deadline expired, and Bowden did not file an amended complaint, move for an extension, or otherwise respond.

II. DISCUSSION

District courts have the inherent power to control their dockets and “[i]n the exercise of that power, they may impose sanctions including, where appropriate . . . dismissal” of a case. Thompson v. Hous. Auth. of City of Los Angeles, 782 F.2d 829, 831 (9th Cir. 1986). A court may dismiss an action based on a party’s failure to obey a court order or comply with local rules. See Carey v. King, 856 F.2d 1439, 1440-41 (9th Cir. 1988) (affirming dismissal for failure to comply with local rule requiring pro se plaintiffs to keep court apprised of address); Malone v. U.S. Postal Service, 833 F.2d 128, 130 (9th Cir. 1987) (dismissal for failure to comply with court order). In determining whether to dismiss an action on one of these grounds, the Court must consider: (1) the public’s

1 interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the Court's need to manage its docket;
2 (3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants; (4) the public policy favoring disposition of 3 cases on their merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic alternatives. See In re
4 Phenylpropanolamine Prod. Liab. Litig., 460 F.3d 1217, 1226 (9th Cir. 2006) (quoting
5 Malone, 833 F.2d at 130).

6 The first two factors, the public's interest in expeditiously resolving this litigation
7 and the Court's interest in managing its docket, weigh in favor of dismissal of Bowden's
8 claims. The third factor, risk of prejudice to the defendants, also weighs in favor of 9 dismissal because a presumption of injury arises from the occurrence of unreasonable
10 delay in filing a pleading ordered by the court or prosecuting an action. See Anderson v.
11 Air West, 542 F.2d 522, 524 (9th Cir. 1976). The fourth factor—the public policy favoring 12 disposition of cases on their merits—is greatly outweighed by the factors favoring 13 dismissal.

14 The fifth factor requires the Court to consider whether less drastic alternatives can 15 be used to correct the party's failure that brought about the Court's need to consider 16 dismissal. See Yourish v. Cal. Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 992 (9th Cir. 1999) (explaining 17 that considering less drastic alternatives before the party has disobeyed a court order
18 does not satisfy this factor); accord Pagtalunan v. Galaza, 291 F.3d 639, 643 & n.4 (9th
19 Cir. 2002) (explaining that “the persuasive force of” earlier Ninth Circuit cases that 20 “implicitly accepted pursuit of less drastic alternatives prior to disobedience of the court's 21 order as satisfying this element[,]” i.e., like the “initial granting of leave to amend coupled 22 with the warning of dismissal for failure to comply[,]” have been “eroded” by Yourish).
23 Courts “need not exhaust every sanction short of dismissal before finally dismissing a 24 case, but must explore possible and meaningful alternatives.” Henderson v. Duncan, 779
25 F.2d 1421, 1424 (9th Cir. 1986). Because this action cannot realistically proceed until and 26 unless Bowden files an amended complaint, the only alternative is to enter a second order
27 setting another deadline. But the reality of repeating an ignored order is that it often only 28 delays the inevitable and squanders the Court's finite resources. The circumstances here

1 do not indicate that this case will be an exception: there is no hint that Bowden needs
2 additional time or evidence that he did not receive the Court's screening order. Setting
3 another deadline is not a meaningful alternative given these circumstances. So the fifth
4 factor favors dismissal.

5 Having thoroughly considered these dismissal factors, the Court finds that they
6 weigh in favor of dismissal.

7 III. CONCLUSION

8 It is therefore ordered that this action is dismissed without prejudice based on 9 Bowden's failure to file an amended complaint in compliance with this Court's January
10 26, 2023, order.

11 The Clerk of Court is directed to enter judgment accordingly and close this case.
12 No other documents may be filed in this now-closed case. If Bowden wishes to pursue 13 his claims, he must file a complaint in a new case.

14 It is further ordered that Bowden's application to proceed in forma pauperis (ECF
15 No. 1) is denied as moot.

16 DATED THIS 8th Day of March 2023.
